Astrology - Introduction:

"ASTRO" means light, star, eye, Sun or rays. Since time immemorial, the Sun, Moon, Star, planets, etc., were recognized as sources of light and of enjoyment. The effect of the rays of such bodies on various living and non-living beings, regular seasonal climatic conditions, relation of these to human life are causes for the innovation of this science. The knowledge of "Direction, Place and Time" is only due to the Sun, Moon, stars etc. The ancient man was well acquainted with this knowledge. Initially, the thought in human mind was generated only due to Astrology. The observations of stars in open sky, identifying them, their structure was treated as Astrology. Due to the importance of this science, Astrology became a part of Vedanga. Siksha (Phonetics), Vyakarana (Grammar), Chanda (Meter), Nirukta (Etymology), Jyotisha (Astrology) and Kalpa (Rituals) are the six limbs of Vedapurusha. Vedas are the sources of knowledge. Astrology deals with planetary movements. The details of planet movement were dealt in Siddhanta Bhaga. The effect of planet is dealt in Phalitha Bhaga. Hence it would be precise to say that Astrology deals with the movements of planets, their aspects and results. The total activity of human being is fully dependent upon daily Sunrise, sunset, Moonrise, Waxing & waning Moon and Stellar effects.
